Jessica Souto receives the first Grant Ashley Award for Quality in Micropigmentation

The micropigmentation artist Jessica Souto received the micropigmentation quality award given by Grant Ashley, a renowned specialist. The award ceremony took place at the Grant Ashley center in Inca, with the assistance of Jessica's clients, friends and family.

The demand for micropigmentation is increasing and requires experienced and recognized professionals. Jessica excels in eyebrow treatments, eyeliner and contouring with lip shading. Each specialty requires specific knowledge and skills for satisfactory results.

Receiving this distinction is a significant advancement in Jessica's career, motivating her to continue learning and developing in the demanding world of micropigmentation.

Grant Ashley is updated in Madrid on the latest advances in micropigmentation

Last October Grant Ashley was in Madrid to attend intensive training given by leading micropigmentation specialists Sviatoslav Otchenash and Julia Vasileva.

Both specialists have extensive experience and significant prestige in this field, and participate in courses, fairs and congresses of great importance worldwide.

The training received by Grant Ashley dealt with micropigmentation of eyebrows, eyeliner and lips, this allowed him to learn about the latest advances and innovations in the sector, as well as to continue perfecting the technique of each of the specialties.

Paco Garcias does a specialization with James Powell from LGS

Paco Garcias was in Barcelona last October to receive training aimed at specialists in capillary micropigmentation. They were three days to continue learning and sharing experiences that were very useful to continue growing as a professional.

In this specialty, improving small details means a big change in the results, so it is essential to spend time and effort to continue learning. It was a privilege to be able to draw on the knowledge and experience of LGS's James Powell, a highly dedicated specialist who exudes passion in everything he does.

First micropigmentation performed live on a television set in the Balearic Islands.

Jessica Souto and Grant Ashley performed micropigmentation live on a set for the first time in the history of Balearic television.

Grant Ashley did an eyeliner shadow micropigmentation and Jessica Souto did a hair-to-hair eyebrow micropigmentation on the set of the #masceles-tequennunca program.

Throughout the program, the two specialists had the opportunity to explain and show the process that is carried out when performing personalized micropigmentation.

SOLUTION TO SHOW A NATURAL & DISCREET SHAVE

Through capillary micro-pigmentation, a natural shave is achieved that covers all those most sparse areas of the head. In all cases, the client obtains a renewed, natural and improved image, with a treatment that is hardly perceived by others and can't be told that it has been carried out.

With micropigmentation, dots with pigment are made to create a shaved-hair effect that is indistinguishable from your own shaved hair, thus achieving a remarkable improvement. In fact, the young man on the cover has had hair micropigmentation performed. It is a different and alternative treatment to hair implants, which offers a less invasive solution for hair loss.

Paco Garcias

Scalp micropigmentation allows you to lead a normal life from the first moment and provides an immediate result. The level of satisfaction is very high and all the clients who have gone through the hands of the specialist see a notable improvement once the treatment has been carried out.
